

KACIE ANNING
Writer/Director

Kacie Anning is a Sydney-based writer and director. She has a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Film & Television from the Queensland University of Technology and is a directing graduate of the Australian Film Television Radio School, where she was awarded the Foxtel Scholarship for Exceptional New Talent in 2011.

In 2017, Kacie made her long form narrative debut directing all six episodes of Matt Okine's break-up comedy The Other Guy for Stan, produced by Aquarius Films and eOne. Prior to this, she earned credits directing the kids sketch comedy series You're Skitting Me for ABC3, as well as the sketch comedy series Wham Bam Thank-You Ma'am for ABC & iView in Australia and NBC's Seeso platform in the US.

Kacie's calling card was the online comedy series Fragments of Friday which she wrote, directed and starred in, with news.com.au heralding Kacie as 'Australia's answer to Amy Schumer' and The Huffington Post celebrating the show's 'unashamedly bold superstar female talent.' Fragments of Friday has been selected for various international festivals including Raindance Film Festival where it won Best Ensemble Cast. In 2016, Kacie won the Australian Directors Guild Award for Best Direction in an Original Online Project for Series 2 of Fragments of Friday.

Kacie currently works as a freelance writer / director / performer and continues to develop several projects across short and longform comedy and drama.
