

BJORN STEWART

Bjorn Stewart is a Sydney-based filmmaker and creator. Most notably he directed the AACTA award-winning mini-series All My Friends are Racist, which had its international premiere at Series Mania. Wrote and directed schlock horror comedy Killer Native and directed Last Drinks at Frida's, both premiering at the Sydney Film Festival and screened at festivals across the globe since. Bjorn has directed episodes for the ABC comedy series Gold Diggers and in 2021 shadowed and mentored by Taika Waititi on Marvel's Thor: Love and Thunder.

In front of the camera, Bjorn was one of the leading stars on We Interrupt This Broadcast, Black Comedy and a part of the core ensemble for Nice Shorts. He wrote and performed on Summer Love, At Home Alone Together, Get Krack!n, and the controversial daily news series Tonightly with Tom Ballard. Bjorn has performed with Skit Box and their series Wham Bam Thank You Mam and Drunk History Australia.

Bjorn is an avid foodie, Catan enthusiast, and like every mid-30-year-old, a lover of the 90s.