

FAIRBAIRNS

Brothers Lachlan and Jaxon Fairbairn started Fairbairn Films from the farm they grew up on in their teenage years, and since then have blown past even their own expectations. Boasting a combined 4.2 million followers online, their comedy sketches have been viewed hundreds of millions of times across the world, all owing to their unique brand of deadpan Australian humour.

In 2020 the Fairbairns received a nomination for the AACTA Award for Best in Online Entertainment, and in 2023 they were selected for Skip Ahead, a Screen Australia and YouTube initiative, to produce a 6 part web series called Fairbairn In The City and they continue onto even more exciting endeavours in screen. The boys have worked with a large array of brands across the world including Spotify, Netflix, Playstation, and even the Australian Government on awareness campaigns. They received an 80 episode order for their Spotify Original podcast, Fair Enough. You can hear the boys on their most recent podcast, aptly named, The Fairbairn Podcast which is supported by the Diamantina Network.

Not a stranger to the stage, Lachlan and Jaxon have toured live shows extensively, selling out crowds at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival and other cities across their multiple comedy tours around Australia. In 2026, the boys will be launching their new tour of live sketches called Fair Dinkum.
